Certificate Course on "Chemistry of Pathological Tests" Conducted by Department of Chemistry, Bangabasi Morning College on and from May 03, 2021, to May 14, 2021

Department of Chemistry, Bangabasi Morning College, conducted a certificate course on "Chemistry of Pathological Tests" from May 03, 2021, to May 14, 2021, during the 2020-21 session. The objective of this certificate course was to develop common concepts and basic understanding of pathological tests among the students. Successful completion of the course is expected to familiarize students towards the normal laboratory practice in the pathological laboratories and advance the students from science background towards absorption in the hospital/ diagnostic pathology/Forensic Laboratory/Research Laboratory and academia. This is a unique opportunity for skill development and basic training in pathology. The course will cover basic chemical techniques to carry out different pathological tests. Insufficiency of proper and expert pathology technicians within the arena of medical services coupled with a low livelihood opportunity for the youth is the main motivation behind designing the course. A total of 367 students enrolled and successfully completed the program. This 30-hour course included a continuous evaluation mechanism, specific practical classes, and visit to nearby pathological laboratories allowing learners to gain theoretical knowledge as well as practical exposure of chemicals, equipment, and sample handling.
